

25X1

Journal - Office of Legislative Counsel
Monday - 7 June 1976

Page 5

25X1

19. [REDACTED] LEGISLATION Jim Wentzel, in the Office of Legislative Affairs at the Department of Justice, called and wanted to know what I knew about H.R. 214. I told him about my discussions with Ken Lazarus at the White House, and that we were preparing to drop off a fact sheet with Tom Mooney, Minority Counsel to the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties, and the Administration of Justice. Wentzel told me Justice has approached Mooney and Bruce Lehman, Majority Counsel to the same Subcommittee, and had failed in obtaining the changes in H.R. 214 they were seeking. Wentzel also asked me if there was any development on sources and methods legislation, and I told him where matters stood.

25X1

20. [REDACTED] LIAISON Spoke with Ted Lunger, on the staff of the House Armed Services Committee, in connection with his being debriefed from his compartmented clearances prior to his departure from the Committee staff around the first of July. Since no definite date has been set, we agreed that Lunger should call us and we would come down and debrief him at an appropriate time.

25X1

21. [REDACTED] LIAISON Called Claude Alexander, on the staff of Senator Robert J. Dole (R., Kan.), and told him that we had alerted the Director to the Senator's interest in the microwave situation at the embassy in Moscow. [REDACTED] [REDACTED]

25X1

25X1C

25X1

[REDACTED] I emphasized that the Moscow situation was still quite sensitive and that at this point in time it would be appropriate for the Director and the Senator to talk about it. Alexander replied that he thought the Senator would call the Director on the matter. He added that a telephone call, however, would probably not provide the amount of detail the Senator was interested in getting and asked if someone could come down to the office and brief them. I said if the Director authorized such a briefing, of course we would come down and talk to the Senator. We agreed to let the matter rest until the Senator and the Director have spoken together.

25X1

[REDACTED]

25X1

Journal - Office of Legislative Counsel
Monday - 7 June 1976

25X1

19. [REDACTED] LEGISLATION Jim Wentzel, in the Office of Legislative Affairs at the Department of Justice, called and wanted to know what I knew about H. R. 214. I told him about my discussions with Ken Lazarus at the White House, and that we were preparing to drop off a fact sheet with Tom Mooney, Minority Counsel to the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Courts, Civil Liberties, and the Administration of Justice. Wentzel told me Justice has approached Mooney and Bruce Lehman, Majority Counsel to the same Subcommittee, and had failed in obtaining the changes in H. R. 214 they were seeking. Wentzel also asked me if there was any development on sources and methods legislation, and I told him where matters stood.

25X1

20. [REDACTED] LIAISON Spoke with Ted Lurger, on the staff of the House Armed Services Committee, in connection with his being debriefed from his compartmented clearances prior to his departure from the Committee staff around the first of July. Since no definite date has been set, we agreed that Lurger should call us and we would come down and debrief him at an appropriate time.

25X1

21. [REDACTED] LIAISON Called Claude Alexander, on the staff of Senator Robert J. Dole (R., Kan.), and told him that we had alerted the Director to the Senator's interest in the microwave situation at the embassy in Moscow.

25X1C
25X1C

[REDACTED] I emphasized that the Moscow situation was still quite sensitive and that at this point in time it would be appropriate for the Director and the Senator to talk about it. Alexander replied that he thought the Senator would call the Director on the matter. He added that a telephone call, however, would probably not provide the amount of detail the Senator was interested in getting and asked if someone could come down to the office and brief them. I said if the Director authorized such a briefing, of course we would come down and talk to the Senator. We agreed to let the matter rest until the Senator and the Director have spoken together.

25X1

[REDACTED]